

THE YALE BROADCASTING COMPANY, INC.

STANDARD COMPETITION REGULATIONS-SECTION A FIRST WEEK OF COMPETITION

- I. These regulations and STANDARD COMPETITION REGULATIONS-SECTION B posted elsewhere on this board should be read carefully by all new heelers.
 - A. SECTION A applies particularly to the duties of heelers during the first week of competition.
 - B. SECTION B applies during the first week of the competition and thereafter throughout the competition.
- II. As soon as possible following the Organization Meeting heelers should begin to familiarize themselves with the organization and operation of the station. To this end:
 - A. Look around the station. Find out what each office is used for, and get to know the men who use it.
 - B. Do not hesitate at any time to ask questions. All members, department heads, and particularly the Vice-Chairman are anxious to help you become acquainted with the station.
 - C. Begin immediately to learn the members' names and faces.
- III. Within 24 hours after the Organization Meeting you must:
 - A. Sign up for the evening shift of your ~~first~~ choice and two other evening shifts on the list posted elsewhere on this board.
 1. You will stand only one evening shift per week.
 2. You will be assigned to one of the three nights of your choice whenever possible.
 - B. Sign up for Yawn Clubs on the list posted elsewhere on this board.
 1. There should be at least three men signed up for each Yawn Club.
 2. Yawn Clubs provide an excellent opportunity for heelers to gain practical experience in announcing and monitoring.
 3. Unless you have six 8 o'clock classes, you sign up for at least one Yawn Club per week.
 - C. Sign up for the department of your first choice and for two other departments on the list posted elsewhere on this board.
 1. You will be assigned to one department, to which you will devote your major effort as a heeler.
 2. You will be assigned to one of the three departments of your choice whenever.
 3. At the present time the following men are in charge of these departments which you are eligible to heel:
